

THEMEVISION LLC

Dennis P. Stolle, J.D., Ph.D.
President

ThemeVision LLC
11 South Meridian Street
Indianapolis, Indiana
46204-3535

Direct Dial: (317) 231-7742
General: (317) 229-3133
Fax: (317) 231-7433

E-mail:
stolle@themevision.com

LinkedIn Profile:

Dennis P. Stolle, J.D., Ph.D.

Dr. Stolle is a trial consultant who works with clients to develop persuasive trial themes and effective trial strategies in civil and criminal matters pending throughout the United States. He also designs and conducts empirical research, including jury simulation studies, focus groups, mock trials, surveys, public opinion polls, and post-trial juror interviews. Dr. Stolle has been a member of national product defense teams for Fortune 500 companies in multiple industries, providing advice regarding judicial and jury decision making, theme development, voir dire, jury selection, and trial and settlement strategies. He also routinely consults on a wide variety of matters beyond products liability litigation, including white collar criminal defense matters, intellectual property cases (patent, trade secrets, trademark, and copyright), commercial class actions, employment discrimination claims, sexual harassment claims, insurance coverage actions, and complex commercial litigation.

Dr. Stolle received his Ph.D. in social psychology from the University of Nebraska's Law/Psychology Program. Prior to completing his Ph.D., he graduated with high distinction from the University of Nebraska College of Law, where he was the research editor of the Nebraska Law Review and became a member of the Order of the Coif. He received his Master of Arts degree in social psychology from the University of Nebraska and his Bachelor of Science in psychology summa cum laude from St. Louis University.

Dr. Stolle routinely gives presentations and seminars on legal psychology throughout the United States and in Europe. He serves as a peer-reviewer for some of the leading jury research journals. He is also a regular contributor to the peer-reviewed literature on legal psychology.

Dr. Stolle is also frequently sought out by journalists for commentary on high-profile cases. He has been quoted regarding jury trials in the Washington Post, the New Jersey Lawyer, the Pittsburgh-Post Gazette, the New Jersey Law Journal, the Indianapolis Star, the Indiana Lawyer, the Louisville Courier-Journal, and many other publications. Dr. Stolle is a member of the American Society of Trial Consultants, and a member of the American Psychology and Law Society. He is also a partner in Barnes & Thornburg LLP, with which ThemeVision LLC is affiliated.

THEMEVISION LLC

ThemeVision LLC
11 South Meridian St.
Indianapolis, IN 46204
317.229.3133

themevision_info@themevision.com

DENNIS P. STOLLE, J.D., Ph.D.

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Social Psychology, University of Nebraska Law/Psychology Program, May 1998

J.D., High Distinction, University of Nebraska College of Law, May 1997

M.A., Social Psychology, University of Nebraska, August 1996

B.S., Summa Cum Laude, Psychology, Saint Louis University, May 1993

PRESENTATIONS

Stolle, D. P. (December 2013). Voir dire tactics and strategies. DTCI Insurance Section Seminar, State Farm Insurance, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (December 2013). The 21st century brief – Using technology in appellate advocacy. 14th Annual Indiana and Federal Appellate CLE Seminar, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Bartholomew, D. & Stolle, D. P. (November 2013). Creating effective courtroom graphics. Invited lecture to Media Arts & Science Program at Indiana University School of Informatics, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (July 2013). Voir dire: Effective techniques for getting and using the information you need. Lorman Education Services, national audio conference and webinar.

Stolle, D. P. (June 2013). Patent litigation: Maximizing value through jury research. Invited CLE presentation at Google, Inc., Mountain View, California.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2013). The law, art, and science of demonstrative exhibits. Presentation at the Defense Research Institute (DRI) Trial Tactics Seminar, conducted in Las Vega, Nevada.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2013). Jury selection and voir dire. Presentation at the 16th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (February 2013). Voir dire: How to start your next trial on the right foot. Presentation at the Indianapolis Bar Association's 2013 Litigation Trial Skills Series, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (January 2013). Voir dire: Effective techniques for getting and using the information you need. Lorman Education Services, national audio conference and webinar.

Stolle, D. P. (November 2012). Voir dire & jury selection: The first step toward a defense verdict. Presentation at the 18th Annual Conference of the Defense Trial Counsel of Indiana, Nashville, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (August 2012). Jury selection: Top five tips for paralegals. On-demand webinar. The Paralegal Resource (www.theparalegalresource.com), operated by Lorman Business Center, Inc.

Stolle, D. P. (April 2012). The jurors' nonconscious programs: How to recognize them, how to use them. Presentation at the Product Liability Advisory Council (PLAC) Spring Conference, Asheville, North Carolina.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2012). Jury selection and voir dire. Presentation at the 15th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (August 2011). Voir dire: Effective techniques for getting and using the information you need. Lorman Education Services, national audio conference.

Stolle, D. P. (April 2011). Maximizing the value of jury research services. VIP Breakfast Presentation at American Conference Institute's 2nd Annual Chemical Products Liability and Environmental Litigation Conference, Chicago, Illinois.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2011). Jury selection and voir dire. Presentation at the 14th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (February 2011). Building and using a juror profile. Presentation at the Indianapolis Bar Association's 2011 Litigation Trial Skills Series, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (December 2010). Maximizing value from jury research and trial consulting services: From routine litigation to bet-the-company cases. Presentation at the Association of Corporate Counsel - Indiana Chapter's Annual ACCumulate Meeting, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (November 2010). The psychology of communicating complex business disputes. Presentation at the Defense Trial Counsel of Indiana's 17th Annual Meeting, Michigan City, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2010). Courtroom confidential: Civil & criminal skills for a better voir dire. Presentation in the Indianapolis Bar Association's 2010 "Courtroom Confidential" trial skills lecture series, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2010). Jury selection and voir dire. Presentation at the 13th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Bartholomew, D. C. & Stolle, D. P. (March 2010). Flash animations in the courtroom. Invited lecture at the Media Arts & Science Program of Indiana University's School of Informatics, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Cotton Santos, T. (December 2009). Selecting jurors and coping with juror misconduct in the age of Web 2.0. Presentation at the American Conference Institute's 14th Annual Drug and Medical Device Litigation Conference, conducted in New York, New York.

Stolle, D. P. (December 2009). Selecting your jury and introducing your trial themes. In Brown, R. (Chair). Jury trials: Techniques for telling the "winning" story (that holds up on appeal). Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (August 2009). Framing and communicating the complex business case. In Greene, C. (Chair), Techniques and strategies in unraveling and presenting the complex business case. Defense Trial Counsel of Indiana seminar, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (July 2009). Voir dire: Effective techniques for getting and using the information you need. Lorman Education Services, national audio conference.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2009). Jury selection and voir dire. Presentation at the 12th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Devine, D. J. & Stolle, D. P. (October 2008). The criminal jury in Indiana: How empirical research benefits policy and practice. Presentation to the Marion County Public Defender Agency, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (October 2008). Jury research in complex litigation. In Knebel, D. (Chair), Complex litigation. Indiana Continuing Legal Education Seminar conducted for the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (September 2008). Jury trials: The lost art and the new science. Presentation to the Sagamore Inn of Court, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2008). Jury selection and voir dire. In the 11th Annual Trial Advocacy Skills College of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, C. (August 2007). Developing winning trial themes. Indiana Continuing Legal Education Program, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & MacGill, R. (December 2006). Persuasion in the electronic age. In Dinsmore, M. (Chair), Electronic data retention and discovery under the new federal rules. Indiana Continuing Legal Education Seminar sponsored by Barnes & Thornburg LLP, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, C. (November 2006). Reducing uncertainty in litigation through juror and judicial decision making research. Indiana Continuing Legal Education Seminar sponsored by Barnes & Thornburg LLP and ThemeVision LLC, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, C. (November 2006). Developing, testing, and presenting persuasive trial themes. Presentation to the DuPage County Bar Association, DuPage County, Illinois.

Stolle, D. P. (September 2005). The big unknown: Ethical issues in jury research. In Pratt, T. A. (Chair), Best practices for litigation management: Controlling the risks, the exposure and the costs. Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel Symposium, Chicago, Illinois.

Stolle, D. P. (June 2005). Jury research: Applied social science in litigation. Invited address to the Indiana Paralegal Association, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (April 2005). Therapeutic jurisprudence: Promoting psychological wellbeing in day-to-day law practice. Invited address to the students and faculty of the Indiana School of Law, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Inskeep, K. H. (March 2005). Lawyers' ethical and legal obligations when mock jurors breach confidentiality agreements. In Mark Phillips (Chair), Ethical and professional issues in trial consulting. Symposium conducted at the 2005 Annual Conference of the American Psychology-Law Society, La Jolla, California.

Stolle, D. P. (March 2005). Law as a helping profession: A psychological perspective on careers in the law. Invited address to Wabash College Pre-Law Program, Crawfordsville, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. & Harris, B. A. (June 2004). Jury psychology in intellectual property litigation: The theories, methods, and applications of empirical jury research. In D. M. Young (Chair), Litigation issues for biotech IP. Symposium conducted at the Midwestern Biotech Intellectual Property Law Symposium, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Stolle, D. P. (April 2004). Jury psychology: The theories, methods, and applications of empirical jury research. In R. MacGill & D. Stolle (Co-chairs), Jury research and settlement analysis. Indiana Continuing Legal Education Program, conducted in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Devine, D. J., Stolle, D. P., Hemmerlein, K., Barnes, H., Studebaker, N. (March 2004). A field study of the relationship between jury demographics and verdicts. In M. B. Kovera & L. Levett (Co-chairs), New directions in jury selection and trial consulting research. Symposium conducted at the 2004 Annual Conference of the American Psychology-Law Society, Scottsdale, Arizona.

Stolle, D. P. (October 2003). A trial consultant's view of jury research: What you don't learn in graduate school. Invited address to the students and faculty of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Law & Psychology Program, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Stolle, D. P., Devine, D. J., & Joliet, A. H. (July 2003). Watching mock jurors deliberate: The impact of observation on deliberations. Poster presented at the 2003 International Conference on Psychology and Law, Edinburgh, Scotland.

Stolle, D. P. & Devine, D. J. (June 2003). Do they know we are watching: Demand characteristics in jury simulation research. Poster presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Society of Trial Consultants, Reno, Nevada. Abstract reprinted in, Court Call, Vol. 19 (2003), available at www.astcweb.org.

Stolle, D. P. (May 2001). Practicing therapeutic jurisprudence in depositions. In D. Stolle (Chair), Therapeutic jurisprudence in litigation. Symposium conducted at the 2001 Second International Conference on Therapeutic Jurisprudence, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Stolle, D. P. (May 2000). The research scientist as litigation expert and consultant. In S. Penrod & R. Wiener (Co-chairs). Symposium conducted at the Annual Meeting of the American Society of Trial Consultants, St. Louis, Missouri.

Stolle, D. P. (July 1998). Integrating therapeutic jurisprudence and preventive law: Toward a practical and comprehensive approach to legal counseling. In D. Wexler & S. Mayer (Co-chairs), Preventive lawyering. Symposium conducted at the 1998 First International Conference on Therapeutic Jurisprudence, Winchester, England.

Stolle, D. P. (March 1998). Integrating therapeutic jurisprudence and preventive law. Paper presented at the 1998 Biennial Meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society, Redondo Beach, California.

Stolle, D. P., Reddish, J., Slain, A. J., & Cacek, C. (March 1998). Perceptions of legal contracts and contract schemas: A qualitative study. Poster presented at the 1998 Biennial Meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society, Redondo Beach, California.

Stolle, D. P. (May 1997). Integrating preventive law and therapeutic jurisprudence: A psychology and law based approach to everyday lawyering. In D. Wexler (Chair), Preventive law and therapeutic jurisprudence: A psychology and law based approach to everyday lawyering. Symposium conducted at the 1997 meeting of the Law and Society Association, St. Louis, Missouri.

Stolle, D. P., & Slain, A. (February 1996). The effects of exculpatory clauses in standard form contracts on consumers' propensity to sue. Paper presented at the 1996 Biennial Meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society, Hilton Head, South Carolina.

Fondacaro, M., Stolle, D. P., & Wilcox, B. L. (February 1996). Psycholegal research in non-judicial settings: Administrative law, a new frontier. Paper presented at the 1996 Biennial Meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society, Hilton Head, South Carolina.

Stolle, D. P., & Schmidt, R. (June 1995). Conservative trends in welfare reform: What to expect from the 104th Congress. In M. Fondacaro (Chair), Welfare reform: An analysis of social policy from the left, center, and right. Symposium conducted at the Fifth Biennial Conference on Community Research & Action, Chicago, Illinois.

Fondacaro, M., Stolle, D. P., & Wilcox, B. L. (May 1995). Issue statement on graduate training in law and social science. Presented at the National Invitational Conference on Education and Training in Law and Psychology, Villanova Law School.

Stolle, D. P. & Wiener, R. L. (March 1994). Perceived fairness of the psychologist consultant: Procedural justice judgments in cases involving trial consultants. Paper presented at the Biennial Meeting of the American Psychology-Law Society, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Wiener, R. L., DiTraglia, C., Green, J., & Stolle, D. P. (August 1993). Trial consulting: Jurors' and attorneys' perceptions of murder. Poster presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Psychological Association.

PUBLICATIONS

Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, C. A. (2011). Trial consulting and conflicts of interest: An introduction. Chapter in Wiener, R. L. & Bornstein, B. H., Handbook of Trial Consulting, Springer.

McErlean, W. M., Stolle, D. P., & Brownwell Smith, M. R. (2010). The evolution of witness preparation. Litigation, 37, 21-26.

Devine, D. J., Buddenbaum, J., Houp, S., Studebaker, N., & Stolle, D. P. (2009). Strength of evidence, extraevidentiary influence, and the liberation hypothesis: Data from the field. Law and Human Behavior, 33, 136-148.

Stolle, D. P. (2008). Five principles for ensuring the effective use of focus groups and mock trials. FDCC Quarterly, 58, 241-264.

Devine, D. J., Buddenbaum, J., Houp, S., Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, N. (2007). Deliberation quality: A preliminary examination in criminal juries. Journal of Empirical Legal Studies, 4, 273 - 303.

Stolle, D. P. & Studebaker, C. (November 2005). Using jury research to help overcome the challenges of common-sense causation. Product Liability Law & Strategy, 24, 1.

Stolle, D. P. & Inskeep, K. H. (August 2005). Unauthorized disclosure and jury research: Potential protections against the "rogue mock juror." For The Defense, 27-30.

Stolle, D. P., & Stuaan, M. D. (2003). Defending depositions in high-stakes civil and quasi-criminal litigation: An application of therapeutic jurisprudence. Western Criminology Review, 4, 134-142.

Stolle, D. P., Robbenolt, J. K., Patry, M., & Penrod, S. D. (2002). Fractional factorial designs for legal psychology. Behavioral Sciences & the Law, 20, 5-17.

Stolle, D. P., Wexler, D. B., & Winick, B. J.; Eds. (2000). Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence: Law as a Helping Profession. Carolina Academic Press.

Stolle, D. P. (1998). Advance directives, AIDS, and mental health: TJ preventive lawyering for the HIV-positive client. Psychology, Public Policy & Law, 4, 954-998.

Patry, M., Wexler, D. B., Stolle, D. P., & Tomkins, A. J. (1998). Better legal counseling through empirical research: Identifying psycholegal soft spots and strategies. California Western Law Review, 34, 439-455.

Stolle, D. P., Wexler, D. B., Winick, B. J., & Dauer, E. A. (1997). Integrating preventive law and therapeutic jurisprudence: A law and psychology based approach to lawyering. California Western Law Review, 34, 15-51. Reprinted in, Brooks, S. L. & Madden, R. G. (2010). Relationship-Centered Lawyering: Social Science Theory for Transforming Legal Practice. Carolina Academic Press.

Wiener, R. L., & Stolle, D. P. (1997). Trial consulting: Jurors' and attorneys' perceptions of murder. California Western Law Review, 34, 225-243.

Stolle, D. P., & Wexler, D. B. (1997). Therapeutic jurisprudence and preventive law: A combined concentration to invigorate the everyday practice of law. Arizona Law Review, 39, 25-33.

Stolle, D. P., & Slain, A. J. (1997). Standard form contracts and contract schemas: A preliminary investigation of the effects of exculpatory clauses on consumers' propensity to sue. Behavioral Sciences & the Law, 15, 83-94.

Stolle, D. P. & Wexler, D. B. (1997). Preventive law and therapeutic jurisprudence: A symbiotic relationship. Preventive Law Reporter, 16, 4-7, 46.

Fondacaro, M., & Stolle, D. P., (1996). Revoking motor vehicle and professional licenses for purposes of child support enforcement: Constitutional challenges and policy implications. Cornell Journal of Law & Public Policy, 5, 355-399.

Stolle, D. P. (1996). Professional responsibility in elder law: A synthesis of preventive law and therapeutic jurisprudence. Behavioral Sciences & the Law, 14, 459-478.

Stolle, D. P., Robbennolt, J. K., & Wiener, R. L. (1996). The perceived fairness of the psychologist trial consultant: An empirical investigation. Law & Psychology Review, 20, 139-177.

Stolle, D. P. (1995). Note: The FTC's reliance on extrinsic evidence in cases of deceptive advertising: A proposal for interpretive rulemaking. Nebraska Law Review, 74, 352-373. Reprinted in, (1996) Advertising Law Anthology: Vol. XIX. Arlington, VA: International Library.

Stolle, D. P., Fondacaro, M., Olson, K. & Wilcox, B. (1995). Column: Bringing community psychology to the state legislative arena: The reform of child support enforcement legislation. The Community Psychologist, 28, 5-7.

Wiener, R. L., Watts, B. A., & Stolle, D. P. (1993). Psychological jurisprudence and the information processing paradigm. Behavioral Sciences & the Law, 11, 79-96.

EDITED ARTICLES

Stolle, D. P. Ed. Weaver, Charles, A. (2013). Eyewitness memory in civil litigation. American Psychology-Law Society News, Fall, 6.

Stolle, D. P. Ed. Campbell, A. T., Knoll, J., & O'Connor, E. (2013). Mental health and legal reflections on gun safety legislation: The NYSAFE example. American Psychology-Law Society News, Summer, 3

Stolle, D. P., Ed. Yamada, D. C. (2013). Legal Update: The emerging American legal response to workplace bullying. American Psychology-Law Society News, Winter, 3.

Stolle, D. P., Ed. Robbennolt, J. K. & Sternlight, J. R. (2012). Legal Update: Ethics in legal decision making. American Psychology-Law Society News, Fall, 2.

Stolle, D. P., Ed. Devine, D. J. (2012). Legal Update: Jurors and the internet: Where are the data? American Psychology-Law Society News, Summer, 16.

Stolle, D. P., Ed. Yarbrough, A., Nicholson, A. (2012). Legal Update: Significant eyewitness cases and the shifting focus of the courts. American Psychology-Law Society News, Winter, 7.

MEDIA COMMENTARY AND COVERAGE

Radio interview regarding the Bei Bei Shuai murder trial, aired on 93.1 WIBC INDIANAPOLIS on May 31, 2013. Available at www.wibc.com/news/story.aspx?ID=1974491.

Jurors May Be Asked Mental Health, Suicide Questions in Shuai Case. INDIANA LAWYER, May 31, 2013 (quoting in-court arguments made by Stolle in support of the use of a supplemental jury selection questionnaire).

Knowing How a Jury May Lean. THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, March 17, 2013, by Carrie Ritchie (quoting Stolle regarding the nature and growth of the jury consulting industry and including descriptions of Stolle's involvement in the John Bales criminal jury selection).

Judging the Jury. INDIANA LAWYER, January 30, 2013 (featuring an interview with Stolle regarding jury selection strategies and trial consulting services).

Attorneys Go Online to Vet Jurors. CHICAGO TRIBUNE. March 26, 2011 (quoting Stolle regarding the use of the Internet to conduct background searches on potential jurors).

Indiana Attorneys Turn to Internet to Help Vet Prospective Jurors for Criminal Trials. GREENFIELD DAILY REPORTER. March 26, 2011 (quoting Stolle regarding the use of the Internet to conduct background searches on potential jurors).

Potential Jurors Are Being Scrutinized Online. THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR. March 22, 2011, by Carrie Ritchie (quoting Stolle regarding the use of the Internet to conduct background searches on potential jurors).

Lawyers Scrutinize Potential Jurors Online. 13WMAZ.com, Macon, Georgia. March 22, 2011 (quoting Stolle regarding the use of the Internet to conduct background searches on potential jurors).

Legal System Atwitter with Possibilities for Social Media. WASHINGTON LAWYER, September 2009 (quoting Stolle regarding the impact of internet social networking sites on jury selection and pre-trial publicity).

Potential Jurors Face Detailed Inquiries: Death penalty trial in 7 slayings on Hamilton Avenue starts in October. THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR. August 8, 2009 (quoting Stolle regarding the jury selection process in the "Hamilton Avenue slayings" death penalty trial).

Pre-recorded television interview with the Honorable Robert Altice of OFF THE BENCH regarding Indiana's "Juror Appreciation Week," aired multiple times on Government TV-2, cable channels 17 and 28, in Indianapolis and surrounding areas. May 2009.

Jurors on Drugs: Questions about Medications are Common During Voir Dire. INDIANA LAWYER, February 4, 2009 (quoting Stolle regarding the practice of questioning jurors during voir dire about their use of prescription medications).

FOCUS: Clearing Up Cloudy Cases. INDIANAPOLIS BUSINESS JOURNAL, October 11, 2008 (quoting Stolle regarding the "CSI effect" and jurors' expectations regarding the availability to lawyers of meteorological data relevant to accident scene conditions).

Weather Info Part of CSI Effect, INDIANA LAWYER, October 1, 2008 (quoting Stolle regarding the "CSI effect" and jurors' expectations regarding the availability to lawyers of meteorological data relevant to accident scene conditions).

Live radio interview regarding the work of trial consultants, aired on WVLP's talk show "View from a Broad . . . or More," September 19, 2008.

Pre-recorded radio interview regarding results of the IndianaViews survey relating to Senators Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton, aired on WIBC Morning News, March 20, 2008.

Poll Asks if Hoosiers Are Ready for a Minority or Female President, INSIDE INDIANA BUSINESS WITH GERRY DICK ON-LINE REPORT, March 14, 2008 (article summarizing findings of IndianaViews survey conducted by ThemeVision LLC and quoting Stolle).

Influence Inside the Jury Room, INDIANA LAWYER, August 22, 2007 (front page story featuring Stolle's research on Indiana criminal juries in collaboration with Indiana University professor, Dr. Dennis Devine).

Jury Study Prompts Guidance, Praise, THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, August 20, 2007, by Jon Murray (featuring Stolle's collaborative research project with Indiana University researchers on the quality of deliberations in Indiana criminal juries).

Study: Forepersons, Vocal Jurors Strongly Influence Verdicts, INDIANA LAWYER DAILY, July 27, 2007 (quoting Stolle regarding research conducted in collaboration with Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis on the quality of the deliberation process in Indiana criminal juries).

IU Researchers Look at Jury Deliberations, INSIDE INDIANA BUSINESS WITH GERRY DICK ON-LINE REPORT, July 25, 2007 (interviewing Stolle regarding research conducted in collaboration with Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis on the quality of the deliberation process in Indiana criminal juries).

Pre-recorded television interview with the Honorable Cale Bradford of OFF THE BENCH, aired on Government TV-2, cable channels 17 and 28, in Indianapolis and surrounding areas. January 2007.

A Winning Legal Strategy is More than Trial, Error, THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, November 6, 2006, by John Schwarb (interviewing Stolle and Studebaker regarding the work of ThemeVision LLC).

Behrman Jury Raising the Bar: New Rules Help Panelists Shed Light on Key Evidence, Observers Say, THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, October 23, 2006, by Tom Spalding (quoting Stolle regarding the impact of jurors' ability to ask questions of witnesses).

Deconstructing Pre-Trial Consulting: What It is and When to Use It, INDIANA LAWYER, October 18, 2006, by Rebecca Berfanger (interviewing Stolle regarding trial consulting).

Jury Selection Starts Today in Jill Behrman Case: Public Has Seen Little Evidence, THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, October 2, 2006 (in which Stolle comments on the challenges of jury selection in a high-profile matter).

Jury Selection Begins in Behrman Murder, THE GARY POST-TRIBUNE, October 2, 2006 (in which Stolle comments on the challenges of jury selection in a high-profile matter).

Behrman Trial's First Challenge: Jurors, THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, October 1, 2006, by Tom Spalding (in which Stolle comments on the upcoming jury selection in the high-profile, Indiana trial involving the alleged murder of Jill Behrman).

Jury Selection Begins Monday in Behrman Murder, THE FORT WAYNE NEWS SENTINEL, October 1, 2006, (in which Stolle comments on the upcoming jury selection in the high-profile, Indiana trial involving the alleged murder of Jill Behrman).

Live radio interview with Gary Seiber of WTRC-AM, Elkhart, Indiana, regarding Indiana's "Cameras in the Courtroom" pilot program. August 2, 2006.

Live radio interview with Gary Seiber of WTRC-AM, Elkhart, Indiana, regarding ThemeVision LLC and jury selection in civil trials. September 15, 2005.

Recreating the Trial as You'd Like It: Video-enhanced Summations Offer Unprecedented Power to Control Jurors' Perceptions. NEW JERSEY LAW JOURNAL, September 5, 2005, by Charles Toutant (interviewing Stolle regarding the potential impact on jury decision making of using video clips in closing arguments).

Barnes & Thornburg Forms New Company: Indianapolis-based Barnes & Thornburg has spun-off its trial consulting service to create a new subsidiary, August 30, 2005. INSIDE INDIANA BUSINESS.com.

CHAMBERS USA: AMERICA'S LEADING LAWYERS FOR BUSINESS, 2005 CLIENT'S GUIDE at 785 (saying of Barnes & Thornburg LLP, "Clients applaud the quality of the technical support on offer, specifically its jury research and advocacy analysis service, ThemeVision.")

ThemeVision Advances Legal Preparation, BIZVOICE, May/June 2004, at 5 (featuring ThemeVision and interviewing Stolle regarding jury research).

"Stealth Jurors" Hijack Justice, Some People Lie to the Court to Get on a Jury to Further Their Own Agenda, PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, April 4, 2004, at A9, by Brooke A. Masters (in which Stolle comments on the willingness of citizens to participate in jury duty in light of recent highly publicized trials, including the Martha Stewart trial).

Good Jury Members are Hard to Find, DULUTH NEWS-TRIBUNE, April 4, 2004, by Brooke A. Masters (in which Stolle comments on the willingness of citizens to participate in jury duty in light of recent highly publicized trials).

Attacks on Jurors Create Hesitancy by Many to Serve, THE POST AND COURIER CHARLESTON.NET, April 3, 2004, by Brooke A. Masters (in which Stolle comments on the willingness of citizens to participate in jury duty in light of recent highly publicized trials).

Culling a Shrunken Jury Pool: Some Go to Lengths to Avoid Service; Others Seek Limelight, WASHINGTON POST, April 2, 2004, at E1, by Brooke A. Masters (in which Stolle comments on the willingness of citizens to participate in jury duty, in light of recent highly publicized trials).

Empathy, N.J. LAWYER: THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, March 1, 2004, Volume 13, No. 9, Editorial (discussing the importance of understanding emotions in litigation and discussing Stolle's 2000 book on legal psychology, published by Carolina Academic Press).

Service Goes National, THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR, February 3, 2004, Business Section, by J. K. Wall (interviewing Stolle regarding ThemeVision, Barnes & Thornburg's national jury research and advocacy analysis service).

Movie Runs Away From Reality, INDIANA LAWYER, November 19 - December 2, 2003, at 9, by Kelly Lucas (interviewing Stolle regarding the realities of jury research).

Books: Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence, THE FLORIDA BAR JOURNAL, January 2002, at 66, by E. F. Schwartz (reviewing Stolle's book, Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence).

At the Heart of the Matter, JUDICATURE, 48, 2001, at 330-331, by The Honorable W. G. Schma (reviewing Stolle's book, Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence).

The Lawyer's Bookshelf, NEW YORK LAW JOURNAL, Friday, October 26, 2001, by C. E. Hansen (reviewing Stolle's book, Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence).

The Heart of the Problem, ABA JOURNAL, 87, 2001, at 79-80, by Richard L. Halpert (reviewing Stolle's book, Practicing Therapeutic Jurisprudence).

LEADERSHIP POSITIONS, GRANTS, HONORS AND ACHIEVEMENTS

Chair, Media Arts & Sciences Advisory Board, Indiana University School of Informatics and Computing, Department of Human-Centered Computing. 2013.

Associate Editor, American Psychology & Law Society News, 2012 - present.

Barrister, Sagamore American Inn of Court, 2007-2011.

Member, Board of Directors, Indianapolis Art Center, 2000.
Franklin & Orinda M. Johnson Fellowship -- 1997/98.
Order of the Coif 1997.
American Psychology & Law Society, Graduate Student Research Grant -- 1997.
National Science Foundation, Doctoral Dissertation Research Grant -- 1996.
Frank & Marie Wheeler Fellowship -- 1996/97.
National Institute of Mental Health Fellowship -- 1995/96.
Research Editor, NEBRASKA LAW REVIEW -- 1995.
University of Nebraska Warden Foundation, Research Grant, November 1995.
Jessie R. Bergquist Law Scholarship -- 1995.
Vantine A. James Law Scholarship -- 1995.
University of Nebraska Regent's Scholarship -- 1993/94.